OCEANA HIGH SCHOOL

FOREWORD

We, the staff of the 1941 Cavalier, have compiled this annual with the hope that it will bring back to you in years to come happy memories of your stay at Oceana High School.

"Sweet memory, wafted by thy gentle gale

Oft up the stream of time I turn my sail."

MRS. HORACE SAUNDERS

DEDICATION

To Mrs. Horace Saunders who has worked earnestly and whole-heartedly with us for four years, we, the class of 1941, dedicate this second volume of the Cavalier.

Class History

IN THE fall of '37, seventy-five gawky and unintelligent looking boys and girls began the first of four eventful high school years. We were a sorry sight at the time but very hopeful. The fall days sped quickly on, bringing with them the football season, a bazaar, Thanksgiving holidays, and Christmas. We enjoyed ourselves during those few free days and then again returned to school to study for the forth-coming examinations. Sighing relief, we watched the new term arrive and with it the first signs of approaching spring. Came spring, bringing Easter and spring fever. We managed, however, to shake off that certain feeling and settle down to work on our last lap of the "rat" year. In June, examinations safely behind us, we set out for three carefree months of summer vacation.

We returned to school the following September with the thrilling knowledge that we were no longer mere "rats" but educated sophomores. It was really a wonderful experience. We elected as our officers for the year: Dent Cole, president; Anne Falconer, vice-president; and Elizabeth Marshall, secretary and treasurer. Under these capable leaders we progressed rapidly and Christmas soon rolled around. Basketball season was well under way and spring arrived. Track and baseball season came and went, and once again it was summer.

When we returned in the fall, we realized we had moved up one cog in the wheel. We were juniors. The officers we elected were: Dent Cole, president; vice-president, Anne Falconer; and secretary-treasurer, Bob White. The fall and winter flew rapidly by, and with spring we realized happily that this year we would be able to attend and be a part of the Junior-Senior Banquet. The eventful night arrived and we trucked on down to the banquet and had a wonderful time. As June approached, we also realized, while watching the seniors graduate, that our junior days would soon be gone forever.

Upon re-entering school we knew now that we were tops and had no class to look up to. Football season proved a success with Kempsville defeated. Clinton Woodhouse was elected president of the student body; and in the home room we elected Dent Cole, president; Clinton Woodhouse, vice-president; and Bob White, secretary-treasurer. After the Thanksgiving holidays, we ordered senior rings, which impressed upon us more deeply the fact that this was our last year at Oceana. Christmas brought a blessed relief and gave us a breathing spell before returning to work on the usual senior play and examinations. Came spring—pictures were taken and invitations were ordered. The weeks flew by and the great day of June 6 arrived. We marched around the school feeling important, a little sad at the thought of leaving the place where we had had so many good times, and yet, quite thrilled with the new life that lay before us. Some of us would go to college; some would embark right away upon our careers. It was time now to turn our heads to the more serious thoughts of life, and we fully realized that fact. And thus, the history of the class of 1941 comes to a close.

Last Will and Testament

In sane and sound mind, we, the class of 1941, do bequeath the following articles to the members of the junior class:

1. Elkan Lachman's athletic ability to all the junior boys.
2. To Doris Salzer, Thelma Allen's quietness.
3. Agnes Marshall's typing ability to Elizabeth Cartwright and Doris Wadsworth.
4. Harold Smithson's weight and height to Mac Davis and Jack Senter.
5. Annette Mason's meekness to Elza Nieman.
6. Frances Forsman's way with the boys to Connie Crockett, Carol Dail, Anne Hilliard, Martha Woodhouse, and Bootsie Clark.
7. To Ruth Malbon, Marguerite Garrett's good humor.
8. To Minnie Whitehurst, Lillie Mae Cooper's domestic science ability.
9. To Norma Lea Bailey and Phyllis Parsons, Geneva Darden's sarcasm.
10. Paul Whesdos' shyness to Norris Johnson.
11. Geraldine Farrar leaves her giggle to Hope Brothers and Estelle Carroll.
12. Shirley Malbon leaves her figure to Merle Etheridge and Kitty Lou Hineke.
13. Charlotte Garrison leaves her neatness to Peggy Rumble.
14. Hugh McTernan leaves his haircut to Streets Stallings and Howard Baxter.
15. To the junior girls, Dent Cole leaves her capability as a leader.
16. To Marian Croonenberghs, Jane Philhower leaves her knowledge of dark moonlit lanes.
17. Chrystie Nicholson leaves her four study bells to Ruth DuVal.
18. Dot Belton leaves her glamour(?) to Carlotta Norfleet.
19. Dick Carroll leaves his height to be divided between A. B. Midgett and Norwood Land.
20. Jo Seydel's beautiful hair and eyes to any girl who's lucky enough to get them.
21. Anne Falconer leaves her shorthand ability to Lois Allen and Virginia Bailey.
22. Bud Robinson's dancing ability to Billy Dekker.
23. Vivian Capps leaves her ability to sleep in class to Marie Swindell.
24. Bill West leaves his ability to get in and out of all the scraps to Marian Gray.
25. Scott Sterling leaves his way with the girls to Chauncey Odell and Maxton Gray.
26. Marjorie Davis' singing ability to Betsy Wales.
27. To Leslie Dyer, Chester Shaffer, and Aubrey Caffee, Collier Cumbea leaves his cynicism.
28. Vernice Archer's sultry glances for some of the masculinity go to Martha Jones.
29. Bob White leaves his happy-go-lucky way to Harfield Timberlake.
30. Anne Jackson leaves her friendliness to all the girls in the junior class who need it.
31. Virgie Tillery's ability to read all the latest novels in class to Emmy Lou Kyle, Evelyn Smith, and Margaret Love Smith.
32. Jr. Whitehurst leaves Lucille Barnes to nobody, he hopes.
33. Because the senior class is not as large as the junior class this year, to those of you who have been left none of our peculiarities, we leave the dignity(?) of our class.
34. To the sophomores we leave the senior desks. May they still be standing—or falling—when you become seniors.
35. To the "Rats" the privilege of looking down on the oncoming freshmen instead of being looked down on by the sophomores.
36. And last but not least, to the faculty we leave our thanks for all the advantages and privileges offered us; and we hope the incoming seniors won't tax your physical, mental, and moral strength as much as we have.

Class Prophecy

Flash! Flash! This is station O. H. S. bringing you the latest news of the world.

Oceana, Virginia

General William West is now in command of the largest army maneuvers in the history of the world. General West has come up from the ranks and is now one of the leading generals in the army.

Last week the ship S. S. Cavalier was lost in a storm off the coast of Florida. All passengers were believed lost, but today we received the good news that Jane Philhower, Dent Cole, Chrystie Nicholson, Scott Sterling, and Dick Carroll are safe. The Coast Guard just received this message: "We are all on an island and safe. Send one more man." Hugh McTernan, the wireless operator, wired back immediately, "I'm on my way."

On the society side of our news, we have just received word of Anne Falconer's marriage to Anderson Holland.

Reno!

Bob White, millionaire playboy, is still sitting on the steps of the court house at Reno, waiting for Vernice Archer to receive a divorce from her third husband.

Miss Virgie Tillery has just returned from a summer vacation at her former home in Baltimore.

Colorado:

Paul Whesdos, famous architect, has been placed in charge of the construction of the largest and tallest building in the world. He has been planning it for seven years and has finally completed the blueprints.

San Francisco:

Senorita Marshall and Senor Robinson, internationally famous rumba team, are now packing them in at the Bal Tabaran.

Miss Geneva Darden, London Bridge socialite, has volunteered as a Red Cross nurse at Fort Benning, Georgia. Sergeant Robert Shirey is in command of the hospital.

Miss Frances Forsman yesterday won the world's speed typing championship at Richmond. Her speed is 144 words a minute.

On the commercial side of the news, I have received notice of the grand opening of the "Belle Dress Designing Shop." The owners are Marguerite Garrett, Thelma Allen, and Lillie Mae Cooper.

Miss Marjorie Davis has just opened her beauty salon at Fifth Avenue, New York.

Harold Smithson, well-known baritone, will make his Metropolitan debut this evening.

Miss Geraldine Farrar, no relation to the singer, last night won the duckpin league championship at the Virginia Beach alleys.

Miss Shirley Malbon will present a horse show Sunday at the Malbon Stables. A large crowd is expected to attend.

Vivian Capps, Dietitian at the Waldorf-Astoria in New York, was quite shocked today when she received the news that all the guests who attended a banquet in honor of Annette Mason, noted book critic, were suddenly taken ill with ptomaine poisoning.

Junior Whitehurst, Iowa agricultural adviser, reports that the corn is coming along fine. "This year is to be one of our best corn years", he says.

Anne Jackson, society columnist for the "New York Mirror", sends us news that Miss Charlotte Garrison, formerly of Virginia Beach, has just sold a painting of the sands at the Beach for fifty thousand dollars. Congratulations, Charlotte!

The former Misses Joe Seydel and Dorothy Belton, after vacationing in the South, have returned to their respective homes in the New England States.
